Defense Savings Stamps On Sale At Chain Stores

More than a thousand chain stores in Texas became agents of the U. S. government in selling national defense savings stamps today, it was announced by C. M. Cooper, chairman of the McKinney Chain Store Managers Committee.

"The chain stores want to make the purchase of stamps easier for persons who do not customarily go to banks or Post Offices," Mr. Cooper said.

In making plans for putting defense stamps on sale at the chain stores, company executives worked out the program with federal officials in charge of the sale of defense savings bonds and stamps in Texas and with the state savings staff, of which Jack R. Ryan is Collin county chairman.

"Chain stores can reach a class of people who can't be reached through the banks or Post Offices," Frank Seefield of Austin, Federal Administrator of the sale of defense savings bonds and stamps in Texas, said.

C. B. Roberts of Dallas, President of the Texas Chain Stores Association, said that chain store cooperation in the sale of defense savings stamps was requested by the U. S. Treasury and first tried in Michigan, where more than 2,000 chain units and independent stores are now selling the stamps. Many stores in Michigan are selling more than a hundred dollars worth of stamps a day, he said.

Texas chain store companies which are selling defense savings stamps and will have them on sale at their counters regularly hereafter include: Safeway Stores, C. Penny Company, Sears & Roebuck & Co., F. W. Woolworth Company, W. T. Grant Company, H. L. Green Company, Melville Shoe Corporation, Martha Washington Candles, Western Auto Supply Stores, S. H. First Bale 1941 Cotton Will Be Sold Saturday

A week later than 1940's first bale, W. S. Sebastian, farmer living in the Josephine Community in Southeast Collin County, brought 1941's initial bale of cotton to McKinney late Tuesday afternoon. The bale, of the Mebane variety, was ginned by the Farmers Cooperative Gin of this city, of which E. L. Aven is Manager.

The bale, in the seed, weighed 1,400 pounds, turning out a 475-pound lint bale. Mr. Sebastian has a cotton crop of thirty-two acres this year, and said he covered ten acres to get the first bale of the county's cotton crop this year.

Will Be Auctioned Saturday.

The bale will be auctioned on the public square Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when it will be sold to the highest bidder. Secretary W. Hammond Moore of the McKinney Senior Chamber of Commerce said McKinney merchants will give a cash premium to the grower of the first bale.

Col. George Apple of McKinney will be auctioneer of the first bale.

The 1940 first bale arrived in McKinney, also on a Tuesday afternoon, August 20, grown by J. E. Hammonds, living a few miles North of McKinney. He used ten pickers to cover about twelve acres of his 53-acre crop to gather the first bale. It was ginned by the Nolan Texas Gin Company in Melissa and brought to McKinney where it was auctioned off to W. B. Mitchell the following day, bringing 24 cents per pound. The price netted the grower $91.20 for his 380-pound lint bale. Together with the $41.75 cash premium offered by McKinney business men, Mr. Hammonds received $132.95 for the honor of growing last year's first bale.

Earliest Bale in 1930.

County cotton statistics show that the earliest bale was ginned July 30, 1930, by C. R. Hillis of Clearlake, and W. C. Shirley of Bloomdale to have won "latest honors" by ginning the initial bale for 1919 on September 1.

It is a coveted honor to be winner in the race for first bale and Collin cotton farmers annually put out top-speed efforts to bring it in. The monetary premium offered is most attractive. Some individual McKinney merchants have each year bought the cotton at a top market price, while the various business houses subscribe a neat premium fund. For a number of years now W. B. Mitchell, druggist, has purchased the first bale and displayed it in front of his business concern for the public to view.

The second bale, grown and ginned at Murphy, arrived in McKinney Wednesday morning, August 21, 1940.

Mrs. Raymond Goode and attractive young daughters, Betty and Kathryn, of Dallas, were guests Tuesday of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter Holland and family here.

An able man shows his spirit by gentle words and resolute actions; he is neither hot nor timid.—Chesterfield.

Every man, however humble his station or feeble powers, exercises some influence on those who are about him for good or evil.—Prof. A. Sedgwick.

Compassion is an emotion of which we ought never to be ashamed. Graceful, particularly in youth, is the team of sympathy, and the heart that melts at the tale of woe.—Blair.

Cotton is now used in more than 1,000 ways and its uses are constantly expanding. The annual consumption of lint cotton for each citizen of the United States has been about 26 pounds for the past several years. Of this amount, clothing accounts for some 40 per cent, and 20 per cent of the consumption is utilized in household goods. The remaining 40 per cent goes into so-called industrial uses.

Nine ambulance chassis, shipped to China by way of Rangoon by Scottish Rite Masons of the Southern Jurisdiction, have arrived there and been equipped for service. They were sent on the S. S. Exilona on February 28th, and reached their destination the latter part of April. Another chassis was shipped on the S. S. Annakel on June 3rd, and while no word has yet been received, it is believed that it arrived safely. All ten were sent in care of Wang Chunghui, who until recently was Minister of Foreign Affairs in General Chiang Kai-shek's Government. He resigned to become Secretary General of the Supreme National Defense Council of China. He received the 32nd Degree of the Scottish Rite on the Altar of Heaven in the Temple of Heaven at Peking, China, and was one of the five permanent members of the World Court at The Hague before the outbreak of the war with Japan, after which he resigned and entered the service of his country.

PLENTY COTTON STOCKING DESIGNS.

More than 150 different cotton stocking designs now are available to the hosiery industry as a result of investigation by the Bureau of Home Economics at the Beltsville, Maryland, research center. Three years ago Congress appropriated funds to the Department of Agriculture for investigating the use of cotton for women's hosiery.

According to Dora R. Barnes, specialist in clothing for the A. and M. College Extension Service, the designs vary from cotton web mesh for evening wear to plain knits in various weights for sports wear, and for around the house and garden. Several are in production and more will be soon. They are produced on a modern full-fashioned knitting machine and undergo severe laboratory and "field" tests for wearability, washability and appearance.

Surveys made in 1940 showed that 89 per cent of the 16,200 full-fashioned knitting machines in the United States are suitable for knitting cotton as well as silk, while only 47 per cent can handle nylon yarns. Last year, American women bought more than 43,000,000 dozen pairs of full-fashioned stockings. If these had been made from cotton, it is estimated that nearly 300,000 bales of long-staple fibre would have been required.

COLLIN COUNTY FREE FAIR.

As the annual Collin County Free Fair nears, it is interesting to note the activity of Collin County livestockmen, farmers, farm club women, and 4-H club boys and girls in that event. Dates of the Free Fair this year are September 23, 24, 25, and 26, and President Elton Riggs, Secretary W. Hammond Moore and other officials are encouraged in their preparations for this year's four-day county-wide exposition because of the backing they are being given by the citizenship of the county.

Following their annual custom, McKinney's progressive merchants will again provide a fund to pay cash prizes to the scores of prizewinners, thus continuing the event a free county fair, which is one of the greatest county fairs in the State and Southwest.

The enthusiasm of 4-H Club Boys and Girls is pleasing to Free Fair officials. As an example of the interest they are showing, Assistant County Agent V. C. Andrews, who recently sent out post cards to club boys and girls of the county, received a wonderful response. Within a short time, he had sixty-five responses in the county agent's office, all those answering his card asserting they will have exhibits at the county-wide exposition. Of this number, fifty-two will exhibit livestock, including bulls, cows, sheep, hogs and poultry, while the others will enter agricultural exhibits.

Mr. Andrews is doing splendid work among the 4-H Clubs, a division of activity and work turned over to him by County Agent Jack McCullough. Miss Charlotte Boyce, County Home Demonstration Agent, will have charge of the girls' 4-H Club Department.

We would suggest that you make your plans now not only to attend the Free County Fair all four days, but that you exhibit something and compete for some of the attractive cash awards and ribbons being offered winners in all departments. It's your Fair, Mr. and Mrs. Collinite, and it's success depends on your cooperation.

YOUR HOME TOWN

W. G. STROTHER.

WHILE ON A RECENT VISIT to McKinney, our good friend, W. G. Strother of Anna, gave us two greatly appreciated pencils, for which we wish to make grateful acknowledgment. One, representing Admiration Coffee, has a big lead, the kind that newspapermen like to use. It also contains the emblem of the NRA, in effect here a few years ago, in the eagle, being the first NRA pencil in our collection. The other is a pencil, of the bullet-shaped variety, from the Carlsbad Caverns, which he, his wife and son, Lt. Strother, secured while on a recent visit there. There is a picture on the pencil, with this explanatory wording: "Totem Pole, Carlsbad Cavern, New Mexico." It is unnecessary for us to tell Mr. Strother how glad we are to get this valuable addition to our collection, but we want to make public acknowledgment of his gifts. These aren't his first donations to our hobby, for he gave us a pencil several months ago, one of the largest and oldest in our collection. We're grateful for his gifts, and doubly appreciative of his friendship.

DR. ROBT. L. COWAN.

AN APPRECIATED CARD comes from our good friend, Dr. Robert L. Cowan, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who is in Kentucky and other States with his family for a vacation visit. "Having a great time," he writes, "Papers (Daily Courier-Gazette) keeping us posted on home news. Plan to go to Missouri first of week. Trust all is going well with you all. Best regards, (Signed) Robt. L. Cowan." The card that Dr. Cowan sent us is an attractive one and a good advertisement of the State of Kentucky. In the center is a map of Kentucky, with names of all cities. Around the edges, however, one finds various typical scenes of the State, including the State Capitol Building, a fine race horse, the famous Kentucky Colored cave and other scenes. We thank Dr. Cowan for his card and for his thoughtfulness in writing us. Their best of McKinney friends will be pleased to learn that they are having a wonderful vacation.

AN INNOVATION.

AN INNOVATION THAT BEGAN with the start of the North McKinney Baptist church revival Sunday is proving successful, says the Pastor, Rev. A. L. Partain, who recently moved here with his family from Arkansas. In addition to night services each morning at 7 o'clock at the church, the plan, says Rev. Partain, is meeting with the approval of the membership and visitors, giving everyone an opportunity to attend the morning services, including business men, housewives, working people and boys and girls. The revival will continue two weeks.

CANTALOUPE KING.

AFTER TALKING WITH B. Frank Bass, well-known McKinney man, about his cantaloupe crop, we have just about reached the conclusion that he is deserving of the title that is being given him of "The Cantaloupe King of North Texas." As you read in Thursday's Daily Courier-Gazette, Mr. Bass of this city, has 100 acres planted to the crop this year, and expects to gather 20,000 bushels this season, having already marketed 10,000 bushels, or half that number. We've had the pleasure of sampling his cantaloupes, and on the basis of the WEALTH.

GOVERNMENTS MAY REDISTRIBUTE existing wealth and property by law. But no amount of legislation, no economic ukase, can add one iota to the prosperity of a people. Additional wealth is created only by man-made machines they employ.

LABOR.

THERE IS NOT, NEVER has been and never will be any substitute for productive work. The wealth of a nation, the riches of its people, are founded only on the brains and brawn that go into industrial effort. Living standards are measured by capacity to produce.

INJURY OVERTAKES MCKINNEY HIGH GRID TEAM WHEN JAMES CAIN SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

Even before the start of the 1941 fall training season, injury overtook one of Coach Swade McMurtry's most promising players, James Cain, suffered a broken leg and other injuries Friday night, Coach McMurtry reported Saturday.

Young Cain, 17, who was lettered at Tackle for the past two years, suffered the injury at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cain, in the Rowlett Community. He had gone out in the back yard of the home about 8:30 o'clock Friday night to crank a tractor, preparatory to doing some night plowing. The machine was in gear, the back wheel running over his right leg, breaking the large bone between the ankle and knee, and crushing his leg.

He was brought to the McKinney City Hospital for medical treatment where he is a patient. The injury will keep the youth from playing during the 1941 season. He will be a Senior in High School this year. Coach McMurtry, in speaking of the injury,

J. L. PUMMILL

J. L. Pummill, minister of the Wilcox Street Church of Christ, was baptized at the age of 15 and led the singing for many years before engaging in preaching. He preached his first sermon at Handley, Texas. His next work was with the Brooklyn Heights Church in Dallas, and from there he went to the Oak Cliff Church in Dallas, where he helped organize the church, and where he preached for a year, also working in a store to support his family.

From this time until 1923, he owned and operated a grocery and market, but in 1923 he gave up his business to devote all of his time to preaching the gospel. Since then he has done local work with churches at Stephenville, Madisonville, Gainesville, and other cities.

The Wilcox Street Church considers itself fortunate in acquiring the service of J. L. Pummill. He comes highly recommended in every respect and is one of the outstanding preachers of the Brotherhood.

The members extend a special invitation to their friends to be with them in the first service of J. L. Pummill Sunday, August 24, and urge all members of that church to be present and bring some one with them at Bible Study at 10 a. m., and preaching service at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Their motto is "The Church That Welcomes You."

New Machine For Dusting Cotton Perfected Here

W. E. Barnett, well-known McKinney machinist, has developed a new machine for dusting cotton and has sold three of the machines to Collin County farmers. Five hundred acres of cotton, infested with boll weevils and leaf worms have been dusted with them, says Mr. Barnett, who adds that he has calls for more of the machines than he can make. A demonstration of the device is being arranged for next week for County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough, who said he is anxious to witness the machine in action. The device is hand-made of automobile parts and it fastens on to a tractor, and operated by tractor power.

H. D. Hays came up from Plano to transact business.

C. L. Crosswhite of Fort Sam Houston is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Crosswhite at Weston while on a 10-day leave.

Roger Jackson, who was born and reared in Plano, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Jackson, now of Jacksonville, Texas, has been called for active duty in the Army at Ellington Field, Houston. He had been in the Officers' Reserve, and is now a Second Lieutenant. He will take part in the Army maneuvers in Louisiana and will then be stationed at Brownwood.

Collin Council, Warning Service, Organized Here

At a meeting of prominent local citizens and Mayors of Collin County towns in the office of County Judge H. H. Neilson, organization of the Collin County Council, a branch of the National Observer Corps of the Aircraft Warning Service, was effected.

The meeting was called at the request of Governor Coke Stevenson, who had been asked by the War Department to organize Texas and to assign the work in each county to the County Judge and Commissioners Court. At least ten men will form the council in each county. In Collin County there are 14 members of the council in addition to the County Judge, who is Chairman and County Clerk W. C. Hagy, who is Secretary.

In explaining the purpose of the organization, Judge Neilson said the Army had devised this means of coping with any possible attempt at invasion by the Axis powers, this form of defense applying strictly to possible invasion from the air. This is the third Collin County defense measure taken within a few months. The Council for Civilian Defense, of which Hon. W. P. Abernathy is Chairman, and the USO, of which A. H. Eubanks is County Chairman, have already been organized and are now functioning.

Comprising the local Council for Aircraft Warning Service, are the following Mayors of Collin County towns and civic leaders of McKinney:

- Judge H. H. Neilson, Chairman
- County Clerk W. C. Hagy, Secretary
- Tom W. Perkins, Mayor of McKinney
- Sid Hildreth, Mayor, Farmersville
- Alex Schell, Mayor, Plano
- Fred Biggerstaff, Mayor, Frisco
- T. F. Wilson, Mayor, Celina
- Clay Riggins, Mayor, Anna
- R. G. Lamm, Mayor, Blue Ridge

E. Housewright, Mayor, Wylie- Roy L. Brockman, Commander, Jimmie Geiges, American Legion Post, McKinney
- Dr. C. J. Hicks, Sr., President, McKinney Lions Club
- City Commissioner Lyman D. Robinson, President, McKinney Rotary Club
- C. Hansford Ray Vice President, McKinney Chamber of Commerce
- Marvin Collins, President, Junior Chamber of Commerce of McKinney
- W. Hammond Moore, Secretary, McKinney Senior Chamber of Commerce

While it may never become necessary to be forced to practice blackouts and keep a constant watch for enemy bombers, it is explained that the Government is on its guard. A member of the Council in each community will recommend three men outside of the military age, or women who will be trained to keep a sharp look-out for enemy aircraft. Each will be on duty eight hours, keeping the Aircraft Warning Service in constant action 24 hours each day in the week. Everyone will work without compensation and each observer will furnish his or her own transportation to the post of observation to be designated by each local member of the County Council.

"The army has divided the nation into two spheres," said Judge Neilson, "that which has to do with direct military responsibility and that which deals with activities of civilians, such as the operation of raid shelters or warning sirens and the arranging of blackouts. Civilian defense is termed 'passive defense.'"

"The Air Corps has divided the country into four interceptor areas. We live in the Southwest Area, which includes states as far East as Florida. In each area there are two divisions, one for combat forces and the other for Aircraft Warning Service. We are now a part of the latter division and I feel sure that every man on this Council will carry out the duties assigned to him. Collin County has always proven its loyalty to the nation in any emergency and we will do it again."

While there will be three observers appointed for each community in the county, 12 will be selected for McKinney.

Miss Esther Brown Promotes Good Neighbor Policy On Trip; Conducts Students On Interesting Mexico Tour

Miss Esther Brown, daughter of Mrs. George P. Brown of this city, will arrive in McKinney Saturday, August 30, from Mexico, and will leave the next day for El Paso. She will stay for a short time there, then go to New York City, where she will sail September 12 for Valparaiso, Chile, to teach as an exchange teacher with Miss Rondavelli of Chil.

Miss Brown, well-known and admired by a host of McKinney friends, receives a splendid tribute to her outstanding work and ability, in the following story taken from the El Paso paper, which says:

Miss Esther Brown, teacher of Spanish at Austin High School, El Paso, will have some fresh ideas on Western Hemisphere solidarity for her classes this fall.

Miss Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Oleott Deming are leaders of two groups of 10 secondary school students on an "Experiment in International Living" trip to Mexico. They sailed from New York for Vera Cruz where they will take the train to Morelia and San Luis Potosi. In these towns they will be the guests of Mexican families for four weeks. Language study in the mornings and outdoor activities in the afternoons will be the program.

Students Visit Capital. Following the home stay, there will be seven days of sight-seeing with Mexican students. Then the groups will have three weeks at a hacienda, and sight-seeing in Mexico City.

Mexico and South America are the concentration points for the Experiment in International Living organization for 1941. The "experiment" started nine years ago with a group of 23 boys going to Europe to make friends with an equal number of European boys. From 1932 to 1939, about 829 young American students lived with the same number of European families and made many friends.

Experimenters Caught. In 1940, the experiment was applied successfully in Latin America, Canada and Japan, new fields of activity. World peace has been the ultimate objective. Said officials of the "experiment" at Putney, Vt. "After

CAPACITY ATTENDANCE AT COLLIN COUNTY FELLOWSHIP MEETING AT LUCAS CHURCH

The weather man was almost too good to Collin County Christian Churches as they met in their Collin County Fellowship Tuesday with the Lucas congregation. "The ideal weather and the dry roads of the county brought together a capacity crowd who literally were hanging around the windows and standing outside the doors unable to gain admission into the church auditorium," says Dr. Clifford S. Weaver of McKinney, president. Mrs. O. S. Scott is Secretary-Treasurer.

The Lucas people were equal to the occasion in the preparation of and the serving of a mountainous noon day repast. The Lucas congregation mostly were on the outside, giving place to their guests. This rural church contains some of Collin County's finest citizens in its membership roll. The Lucas Pastor is Rev. W. A. Welsh of TCU. Seventy-one attended from McKinney, twenty-five of these being from East McKinney and forty-six from the First Church.

The Lucas meeting was one of the best which has ever been held. Every church was represented and each brought a most encouraging report. Many additions to the churches by baptism were reported. Many of the county churches had or soon would conduct special revival services. All the churches except two are supplied with Pastors. Five of the churches are served by student preachers who go and come from TCU but render most acceptable service to the churches which otherwise would be without pastoral care.

Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, the President, presided over the sessions during the day.

Dr. Kenneth Bonham spoke three different times and Rev. Erwin Montgomery, a Collin County boy and now Pastor at Longview, preached the noon day sermon. Rev. Montgomery is at present conducting one of the county revivals at Princeton, which congregation has been served by TCU students for the past several years.

Invitations for the next meeting were received from East McKinney and Frisco. No decision was made as to the place nor time of the next meeting. Two or three such meetings are held annually and probably the next meeting will be in mid-winter with one of the churches that can best handle an all weather gathering. Some of the churches are so situated that respect must be had for the weather and roads.

The Baptist and Methodist friends of the Lucas community gave their cooperation in extending the hospitality of the day.

The opening prayer was by Rev. Smith, Methodist Pastor at Howe, who was visiting relatives in the community and Rev. Bachelor, the Lucas Baptist Minister, led in the closing prayer at the noon day session.

The meeting closed about three thirty by singing "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," and the benediction by Rev. W. A. Welsh of TCU and the Lucas Christian Pastor.

This meeting undoubtedly enjoyed the largest attendance ever had in the county.

LAMKIN-GILES RITES READ AT DENISON

Miss Betty Giles, daughter of Mrs. H. Grady Giles of Anna, and Sergeant John Lyle Lamkin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lamkin of Fort Worth were united in marriage Friday, August 22, in Denison. Rev. Le Roy Anderson, Pastor of the Christian Church, officiated with the ring ceremony.

The bride, a young woman of much charm and beauty, was lovely in an early fall frock of RAF blue, her accessories being in black. She wore white carnations, fashioned into a shoulder corsage.

The happy newlyweds left for a short wedding trip to Louisiana where Mr. Lamkin is stationed with the 111th medical regiment. Mrs. Lamkin will return to Anna where she will remain until the termination of the maneuvers.

The bride is a member of a pioneer Collin County family. Her father, the late H. Grady Giles, was a well-known North Texas banker, as well as active in affairs of his home community. She was born and reared at Anna, and after graduating from High School there, entered Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, where she was a member of the Bryson Club.

Sergeant Lamkin was reared in Fort Worth, where he held a responsible position with a telephone company before being inducted into the army service. TOTAL OF 342 FARM BOYS AND 300 FARM GIRLS IN 4-H CLUBS OF COLLIN COUNTY, SAYS AGENT

There are 342 farm boys and 600 farm girls in the 4-H Clubs of Collin County, who are taking a prominent part in the agricultural and livestock development of Collin County and in home economics as well.

An interesting report on the work of these clubs has just been compiled by County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough, Assistant Agent V. C. Andrews and County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Charlotte Boyce.

The report shows that the boys of the 4-H Clubs of this county during the past year have done wonderful work and are prepared to give even the adult farmers keen competition in the 1941 Collin County Free Fair here September 23, 24, 25, and 26. Every club in the county is expected to enter exhibits of both livestock and agricultural products.

During the 1940-41 season, of the total number of boys in the 4-H Clubs 120 have been carrying on swine demonstrations; 56 poultry; 46 dairy calves; 34 beef cattle; 12 have been growing onions, 10 corn; 8 have orchards and 3 are raising turkeys.

The 300 girls in the clubs have canned 22,206 containers of foods to add to the families' home food supply. This food, if it had been purchased ready canned would have cost those families $3,330.90. The farm girls work on the assumption that a well fed family is in the first line of the nation's defense.

In a bulletin recently received by the local agents it is shown that the 3,440 4-H Club Boys in Texas in 1941 attended one or more calves each and won a total of $10,460.00 in premiums at various shows and fairs. They also sold at auction at the close of the shows $72,460.30 worth of show animals. This was less than five per cent of the total sold in the State by club boys.

The motto of the 4-H Clubs is "To Make the Best Better." The four "H's" in the club name mean equal training in the head, hands, heart and health of the boy and girl members. The club colors are green and white.

Cosmetic Sale At Carr's To Begin Thursday

Carr's is advertising a special sale of Charles of the Ritz Cosmetics from August 28 through September 6.

Charles of the Ritz is giving every woman an opportunity of having a box of her very own powder blended by offering a dollar box of face powder as a gift with a purchase of any other CHARLES of the RITZ preparations, except face powder.

The fundamental truth that no two women have exactly the same skin tone, and therefore that no two women should wear exactly the same shade of face powder has been faced with action by one great cosmetic expert, CHARLES of the RITZ, who refuses to sell any woman an impersonal package of face powder. Instead, CHARLES of the RITZ blends the powder personally and intimately for the woman, and "tried on" repeatedly until her own eyes can see that her individual skin tones are glamorized, any hint of sallowness is removed, the ravages of time concealed from notice, and most important of all, that Naturalness is still the keynote of her appearance.

Mrs. Mae C. Finley, who spent a month this summer in the Charles of the Ritz Beauty School will be pleased to have her friends call and receive this wonderful offer.

James Touchstone came over from Farmersville on business Friday.
